KENTUCKY EDITORS.

Proposed Summer Jaunt Arranged for by Committee.

A Route Planned That Will Insure a Delightful Time of it.

Louisville, Ky., May 21.—At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Kentucky Press Association, held in Louisville, the program for the annual meeting and trip was agreed on. The coming jaunt will be the longest in the history of the association, and promises to be one of the most enjoyable.

The meeting will be held August 2 at Madisonville, where the business session will be held in the morning. The afternoon will be devoted to sight seeing. At night the literary exercises will be held in Morton's opera house.

At 11:11 o'clock p. m., the editorial party will start on its big trip to the West. Eleven days will be devoted to the junket. The editors will use their own Pullman sleepers straight through. The itinerary includes Salt Lake City, Denver, Colorado Springs, Manitou Springs, Cripple Creek, Garden of the Gods and many other places of interest. The party will visit the National Printers' Home at Colorado Springs.

The committee passed resolutions requesting the General Passenger Agent of the Missouri Pacific to assign Mr. R. T. G. Matthews, local representative of the road, to accompany the Kentucky press party. Mr. Robert E. Morningstar will shortly go over the entire route and make final arrangements. He will issue a booklet giving full information.

The following were elected delegates to the National Editorial Convention, to be held at Buffalo: T. G. Watkins, Louisville Courier Journal; John H. Westover, Williamstown Courier; Milton F. Conley, Ashland Independent; Chas. M. Meacham, HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKIAN; Robert E. Morningstar, Bowling Green Courier.

FIRST TO CLOSE.

Hopkinsville High School Ends the School Year.

Hopkinsville High School is the first of the schools to close the spring session. Maj. J. O. Ferrell, the principal, with this session closes the 28th year of the school under his competent management. Originally it was a military academy, but of late years it has become a select training school, with a limited number of pupils, a good many of whom board in Maj. Ferrell's family. By teaching on Saturdays he "made up" a week this year and let his boys out a week earlier than usual.

PARALYTIC STROKE

Hastened Death of an Aged Fairview Lady.

Mrs. Susan Yancey, an aged lady of Fairview, died Tuesday. She was the mother of Messrs. John and Pres Yancey, of Fairview, and Mrs. L. P. Payne, of this city. She had been in failing health for a year or more and a few days ago suffered a stroke of paralysis, which was the immediate cause of death.

Mrs. Yancey was about 85 years old and had been a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church for many years. The remains were laid to rest in the Layne burying ground Wednesday.

Road Overseer Named.

S. M. McRae has been appointed overseer of the Edwards' Mill and Pembroke road from the Casky and Edwards Mills road leading from the Nashville road to the Yancey farm.

ROAD CONVENTIONS.

The Good Roads Meetings Called For July 10 and 11.

Movement Well Under Way And Business Men Organized For Work.

Col. W. H. Moore, president of the National Good Roads Association, who was here last week, has called one of the two conventions to be held in Kentucky to meet in Hopkinsville July 10 and 11. The other will be at Louisville a week earlier. Wherever these meetings have been held a wonderful interest has been aroused in the movement for good road.

The Illinois Central Railroad is promoting the scheme in the South and a special train of twelve cars is required to transport the machinery and working crew. Actual instruction is given in the construction of roads. The train carries graders, crushers and rollers of the most improved kinds and the road builders usually build a mile of road near the city and wind up with a mammoth convention.

The working force will arrive about July 6 and will during the next three or four days build the road to be constructed. Then on the 10th and 11th there will be conventions at which discussion will take place, speeches be made and everything done to create a lively interest in good roads.

As all of the turnpikes of Christian county will be thrown open July 1st, these dates may also be observed to celebrate that event and the whole population of the county will be invited to attend. The railroads will run excursions from all parts of Western Kentucky, as the conventions are the only ones to be held in this half of the State.

A public meeting of citizens was held at the city court room last night to appoint committees on arrangements, finance, invitations and reception and to perfect the necessary organization. These committees will be announced in a subsequent issue. Every effort will be made to make the coming conventions the largest gatherings of the kind ever held in the State. Governors of several states will be invited to attend.

FIRM MARKET.

Receipts Continue Heavy With Good Sales For Week.

The tobacco market this week was firm on leaf but perhaps a bid easier on lugs. The offerings showed good condition and sales amounted to about 400 hogheads. Receipts were between five and six hundred hogheads. Last week's quotations fairly represent the prices for this week. During the past ten days there have been some private sales of fine leaf at prices ranging as high as $15.

Wonders of the Automobile

A Grand International Speed Contest for the Pan-American Exposition

THE Queen City of the Lakes, with her beautiful tree-embowered streets and parkways, will this summer be the Mecca of the automobilists of the Americas.

As a result of a conference held in Buffalo between William I. Buchanan, director general of the Pan-American exposition, and a committee appointed by the board of governors of the Automobile Club of America, consisting of Albert C. Bostwick, Percy Owen and J. M. Hill, all of New York city, together with Thomas M. Moore, superintendent of transportation exhibits, and the sports and athletics committee of the exposition, it was decided to hold a grand international road race of 200 miles from Buffalo to Erie and return as the culmination of a week of automobile sports at the Pan-American exposition.

To arrange and carry out the programme of the tournament Director General Buchanan has appointed a committee of automobilists to act in connection with the sports and athletics committee of the exposition. Mr. Malcolm W. Ford will be chairman of the special committee, and his associates will be Mr. J. M. Hill, who will represent the electrical vehicle interests; Mr. Percy Owen, representing the gasoline vehicle interests, and Mr. S. T. Davis, Jr., representing steam vehicle interests. All four are members of the Buffalo Automobile Club of America, and Mr. Davis is president of the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers. The fifth member of the committee is Dr. Truman J. Martin, president of the Buffalo Automobile club.

Though the programme of the tournament, which will be held in the stadium, has not been arranged, it has been suggested that trials to test the mobility and economy of the various types of motor vehicles, obstacle and hill-climbing contests, brake contests and pursuit races be included in it.

The tournament will take place during the week beginning September 16. It is intended that the international speed contest over the famous Buffalo-Erie course shall rank with the famous long-distance automobile races held annually in France. This contest will be the feature of the week of automobile sports and tests, and will be open to self-propelled vehicles of all types and all countries. Large purses and valuable cups and medals will be presented to the winners.

KILLED THREE

Including Himself, and A Fourth Victim May Die.

A Bad Man With a Gun Turns Himself Loose at Evansville.

Evansville, May 20.—Everet Conway, aged 27, shot and killed C. W. Garrison and wife in this city yesterday and badly wounded Patrolman Ben Wallis. After being driven to desperation by the police Conway killed himself. Conway was a neighbor of the Garrisons. The two families had not been on friendly terms for several months, the wives of the men having quarreled. Saturday morning Conway wrote a letter to Garrison saying he had cheated his father in a trade for a milk dairy. Garrison showed the letter to Conway's father, who upbraided his son. Early yesterday morning Conway, who was employed at the railroad yards, picked up a shotgun and going to the stable where Garrison was milking, shot him dead. Then he shot Garrison's cows to death. Mrs. Garrison ran from the house. Conway met her at the steps and emptied both barrels into her breast, she falling dead at his feet. The murderer next set fire to the Garrison stable, the fire department was called out and extinguished the fire. Conway then barricaded himself in his house and when Patrolman Wallis attempted to arrest him, Conway shot him in the face and side.

The entire police department was called after the riot alarm was sounded. The police surrounded the house ready to break in when they heard a shot. Conway had killed his wife good-bye, then ran upstairs and shot himself in the heart. Conway came from a good family, originally from Kentucky. He leaves a wife and two children. Garrison leaves two children. Garrison was a prominent lodge man and carried a large life insurance.

Commissioner's Sale.
Christian Circuit Court, Kentucky
W. T. CARTER, Adm'r.

Honduras at the Buffalo Fair

The Republic Has a Handsome Building at the Pan-American Exposition

HONDURAS has erected a handsome building at the Pan-American exposition, and will make an extensive exhibit of her resources.

Honduras is the third in size of the Central American republics. It is generally mountainous but well watered, its principal rivers flowing into the Caribbean sea. It is said that the natural conditions are such that nowhere in the world can a greater variety of products be found. The products of all climates grow naturally and abundantly. Cit-wonderful display, showing the great wealth of her mountains and plains.

The Honduras building at the exposition is located in the western part of the court of state and foreign buildings. It faces the approach and overlooks a portion of Delaware park and the lake. The building is designed with an octagonal rotunda surrounded with wide porches on three sides and with pavilions on four sides, the remaining side being occupied by the kitchen and toilet rooms. The central rotunda and two of the pavilions are intended for exhibits of the country's products. There are a cafe and offices for the commissioners in the other two pavilions. Stairs lead from the rotunda floor to a gallery, which surrounds the rotunda and is lighted by skylights and dormer windows. There are four large circular doorways, connecting the pavilion with the rotunda, which give a novel and pleasing effect. The porches are well protected by the broad projecting eaves and are comfortable places for weary visitors to rest and enjoy a taste of Honduras hospitality. The exterior of the building is an adaptation of the Spanish-American style with classic details. The roof is of Spanish tiles, and the exterior of the building of stucco.

of the United States have already become investors in her agricultural grazing, forest and mineral lands, but her boundless resources are still practically untouched. The government is divided into 15 departments, with an area of 43,000 square miles. The population is about 400,000. Bananas are the chief crop and called a market largely in the United States. The growing of coffee and citrus are increasing industries, and among the other exports, indigo, sisal, vanilla, dye woods, rubber, hides and skins are prominently. Her live stock industry represents an investment of more than $5,000,000. From these will bring to the exposition a

REACHING BUFFALO.

How to get to And About The Exposition.

Transportation Facilities by Steam and Trolley.—Chair Service on the ground.

The Buffalo Street Railroad officials express confidence in their facilities for handling Pan-American crowds this summer.

New tracks have been laid on Elmwood Avenue north of Forest Avenue, and near the West Amherst Gate passenger depots have been erected and switches put in. The officials have been kept busy arranging routes and schedules. Extensive accommodations for handling large traffic are now ready at the East and West Amherst Gates. A new line, running direct to the grounds has been opened. This line, called the Jefferson, starts from the Erie and Central Stations and proceeds to the grounds via Jefferson and Main streets, Florence, Parkside and Crescent Avenues, unloading at the east gate. Other lines will be placed in operation as soon as the officials feel that this is justified by the traffic.

The Terminal station, where the trans of the different steam railways discharge their passengers at the north of the Exposition grounds, permits of every facility for passengers who will be landed there. Eight tracks have been laid and there are five covered platforms, so that a number of different trains can be run into the station at the same time, and this will often occur, as several roads come into the station, and on big days during the summer when there are many excursions, the traffic at this point will be very heavy. It is but a few steps from this station through the 'Railway Exhibits Building and the great arches of the Propylaea to the beautiful Plaza when the visitor entering from the north obtains his first general view of the Exposition.

Excellent facilities for getting about the grounds are provided. The wheel chairs, pushed by guides, most of whom will be college men, afford an easy method of seeing the Exposition for those who can afford that means of transportation. The rates for their use are much lower than at previous Expositions.

There are three hundred chairs available at present and as many more as is necessary to provide for the people, will be added. It is hoped that six hundred or seven hundred may be in use during the busiest part of the summer.

The chairs are a great improvement in many ways over those used at Chicago. They have ball bearings, rubber tires, and a spring gear, making them very comfortable as a means of locomotion. All the leading Universities will be represented among the guides who push the chairs. Applications have been received from over 3,000 college men to act in this capacity, so there is no difficulty in providing for any amount of business.

The uniform selected by the Director-General is a dark blue suit, decorated with red braid; and an automobile cap with red trimmings and a nickel badge.

The wheel chairs will go outside the gates if their patrons desire, and afford every facility for seeing the Fair in the easiest possible way.

There will be stations at each of the gates—seven have already been provided for. Besides this there will be movable stations that will be placed at those parts of the grounds where the crowds are likely to be the greatest.

Rate Card.

Use of a chair with the service of a Guide for one (1) hour, fifty cents ($50).

Use of a chair without Guide, for one (1) hour, twenty-five cents ($25).

No chair is rented for less than one (1) hour and fractions of an hour less than (30) minutes are considered as one-half (1/2) hour.

Day Rate.

Use of a chair and service of a Guide for a day of eight (8) hours, three dollars and fifty cents ($3.50).

Miniature Railway.

The miniature railway affords not only an interesting feature for the children who like to ride for the sake of riding, but affords also a convenient way of getting from place to place about the grounds. Especially convenient in this respect is the stretch of track that runs from the East Amherst gate, past the Six Nations stockade, back of the Ordnance exhibit, to the Art Gallery and the Approach.

One line of this railway runs from the north side of the Indian Congress on the Midway, back of the various concessions, along the West fence to a station at the West Amherst gate.

From another station on the north side of the Mall at the same gate, the line runs to a point near the terminal station and Railway Exhibits Building.

Another transfer station is here, from whence the line runs to the north side of the East Amherst gate.

Details of operation, if the road are not yet quite completed. Additional lines may be laid out; but the railway promises to be an efficient means of transportation between points on the border of the grounds. The miniature engine is complete in every detail and is a study for railroad men. The cars all have ball bearings and many of a canopy top, and they are lighted by electricity. Each car carries from four to eight persons and about ten cars constitute a train. The engines are 38 inches high, burn hard coal, are capable of pulling twenty-five tons and of running at the rate of twenty miles an hour.

The miniature railway track is 15 inches wide. A five cent fare will take one person over one line and twenty cents will enable one to make almost a complete tour of the grounds.

The line from the Indian Congress to the West Amherst gate is already running, as is the line running South from the East Amherst gate, going to the Art Gallery and the Approach. The others will soon be in order.

Besides the rolling chairs and miniature railway, the electric launches which will ply on the Grand Canal of the exposition and the gondolas also afford a convenient as well as pleasant form of journeying from one part of the grounds to another.

Venetian Gondolas and Gondoliers

The gondolas of Venice will afford a very pleasurable means of getting around the grounds. There will be stations in the canal, where tickets may be purchased.

1. Near the Horticulture Building.
2. Near the Mines.
3. Near the West Pergola on the Esplanade.

THE DRYS WIN

Local Option Case From Cloverport, Decided by Court of Appeals.

Frankfort, Ky., May 21.—The judgment of the Breckinridge Circuit Court in the local option case of Thomas C. Tousey and others against F. W. Dehuy was affirmed by the Appellate Court in an opinion by Judge Hobson. An election for local option in the town of Cloverport was held and carried in the fall of 1899, and the appellants contested the election before the County Election Board. They lost there and appealed to the Circuit Court. The lower court sustained the action of the Election Board.

The Langshans.

History tells us that in February, 1872, Major Crood, of England, received his first importation of Langshans from China. The following November he exhibited them at the Crystal Palace, and six years later the fowl was introduced into the United States by the late Mrs. R. W. Sargent, of Kittery, Maine.

Both in this country and in England, the introduction of the breed brought forth a regular storm of opposition, no doubt on account of the boom it at once created. But to-day the Langshan is all the better for the warfare, and fears no rival.

At the time of the introduction of the Black Langshan, it was as much like a Black Cochins as any two breeds could resemble each other. Since then the Cochins has been greatly changed. The Cochins of to-day has immense feather development, square build, short legs, and great cushion almost hiding the nearly aborted tail. The Langshan of to-day is rather tall, with extremely high tail, long sickles, and great activity. There is now so much difference between the two that no further trouble in that direction need be feared.

An English writer some years ago declared that the first Langshans were identical in appearance with the Black Shanghais he used to keep, averring the latter possessed not only the shape and color of plumage, but the lightly feathered shanks, pink feet and white skin that are the Langshan's badge of purity; while many others expressed themselves substantially to the same effect.

Stephen Beale, in comparing the two breeds says there can be no question but they are vastly different now, resembling each other only in color; for, while the Langshan is a splendid layer, and a capital table bird, not determined a sitter, and a most valuable fowl for general purposes, the other is just the opposite of all these. The Cochins is handsome in appearance, but that is all. We are disposed to think the truth of the whole matter is that the Langshan of the present day and the Black Cochins of forty years ago, if not exactly the same, very nearly so; but the latter has been spoiled by the breeding for fancy points alone.

One of the best proofs that the Langshan is a pure and distinct breed is the way it stamps its self upon the cross. A good illustration of this is told by Miss Crood, of England:—

'A Mr. Cook has within the last few years brought out a bird he has called the Orpington. He tells us he has used three birds in its formation. Now the Langshan has so stamped itself on this composite bird that when they appear side by side in the show pen they give rise to a real comedy of errors; on more than one occasion a good true Langshan has won over a prize Orpington in an Orpington class, under an Orpington judge.'

Briefly stated, the points of excellence in the Langshan are their large size, showy appearance, hardy nature, remarkable freedom from disease, excellent winter laying qualities, quiet and gentle disposition, tender and delicate flavor of flesh, good yet not persistent sitters, and careful mothers. There is a combination hard to find in any other breed. They lack but in one particular to being the ideal bird in this country, and that is in the color of their skin, Americans owing as much to their prejudice for a yellow skin as the English do for white. Yet to those who have eaten Langshan meat, the objection to color is at once overlooked.

The writer bred this variety for years, and in all that time never could be persuaded to drop them to take up another. As winter layers they proved themselves to be leaders, furnishing a good supply during the most severe weather, and at times when other varieties seemed to be at a standstill.

As chicks the Langshans are strong and vigorous, coming out black, the head and breast with different shades of canary, and the legs of a light color; when they assume their first feathers, they often retain a few white nest feathers, which, however, entirely disappear with their moult in fall.—Poultry Breeder.

Cure For Leg Weakness in Chicks.

I want to tell your readers of a discovery I have made. I call it my discovery for the reason that I have never heard of the article being used for the purpose of curing leg weakness in chicks. This complaint is very common. I have hatched thousands of chicks in incubators, and never took off a hatch that did not have a liberal sprinkling of weak legged youngsters, nor do I think any one else ever did.

What causes leg weakness I know not; some say one thing and some say another. Ask a hundred poultrymen the cause and they will each have a different opinion. Your temperature was too high, some say one wisecrack; too low says another, and so it goes. Still another, when the week old chicks are attacked with the trouble, says you are feeding them too rich feed. These opinions carry no weight with me, for experience has told me that leg weakness will come no matter how you try to avoid it. But after years of experimenting I cry, Eureka! at last I have both a preventive and cure in phosphate of lime. It is a grand thing for the purpose and works every time. To every fifty chicks put a heaping teaspoonful of it in their soft feed; do not be afraid of it, it is not poisonous, being nothing but calcined bone. It is something the nature of fine ground bone, but it is a hundred per cent better for putting the little ones on their pins. It can be purchased at any drug store at from one to two ounces for five cents. In writing this article I have spoken entirely of incubator hatched chicks, not because leg weakness is not just as common in chicks hatched under a hen, but because I use incubators for hatching, and my experience has all been with incubator chicks.—G in Poultry Breeder.

RICHARDS STOCK

Bought at Bankrupt Sale By J. H. Anderson & Co.

Stock of About $22,000 Knocked off at Only Fifty Cents on The Dollar.

The stock of Dry Goods of The Richards Company was sold at public auction yesterday and brought $11,825. The stock involved something over $22,000 and brought fifty-cents on the dollar. J. H. Anderson & Co., were the purchasers and will move the stock of goods to their store at 211 South Main and put it on sale at once. This makes three large stocks Anderson & Co. have bought within sixty days, in addition to their big new spring stock.

Several out-of-town merchants were present and the bidding was quite spirited. The notes and accounts amounting to $845 were sold to Mr. Harry Templeton.

PETER POSTELL,

Richest Colored Man in Kentucky, Passes Away.

Leaves an Estate Valued at $100,000 to $125,000.

Peter Postell, the wealthy colored grocer, died Wednesday morning aged 60 years. He had been a sufferer from dropsy for two or three years and for a year or more he had been undergoing a gradual physical decline. He was the most conspicuous representative of his race in Western Kentucky and leaves an estate estimated at from $100,000 to $125,000. It is doubtful if there was a richer colored man in the State of Kentucky. He was a light mulatto of almost gigantic frame and was born in North Carolina in 1841. The late P. J. Glass, of Virginia, purchased him when he was a boy and brought him to Hopkinsville in 1858. Three years later he ran away and joined the Federal army, enlisting at Clarksville, Tenn., in Co. H, 16th U. S. Colored Volunteer Infantry. He returned to Hopkinsville after the war and started a little grocery on the corner of Virginia and Sixth streets and from the first did a prosperous business. He enlarged his business from year to year, and invested his earnings in real estate that increased in value as the town grew. In time he owned half the square on which he started in business, where the fine Postell Block now stands. He bought building lots and owned many houses all over the city, including his own fine brick residence opposite the Clay Street Public Schools. Of late years his son, Peter Postell, Jr., had been associated with him in his mercantile business and he has greatly prospered. He had large investments in bonds, stocks and loans and added new departments to his business.

He ranked among the city's most public spirited citizens. He gave largely to public improvements. His subscription of $1,000 to the Hotel Latham fund in 1892 was one of the largest individual subscriptions. He leaves a large family of children. One son, John Postell, is a gauger in the Revenue Service. His second son, Peter, is at the head of his business interests. A third son, Zack, did not long ago. There are six daughters. The grown ones have been educated at Fisk University and one them is a teacher of unusual talents and culture. Deceased was a member of the Colored Methodist church and held membership in several benevolent orders.

His funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Postell residence, conducted by Rev. J. W. Luckett, the pastor of his church. The interment took place in East Hill Cemetery.

SIX LECTURES.

Manager Holland's Attractive Program For 1901-2.

Manager Holland has arranged with the Southern Lyceum Bureau for a still more attractive program of lectures next season than he had this year. This time there will be six instead of five dates and every entertainer is a star in his line.

The following list will give the reader an idea of the attractions ahead:

Mrs. Henry Gielow, formerly of Alabama but now of Brooklyn, N.Y., is a character impersonator of wide reputation.

A. W. Hawks, "The laughing Philosopher" will give his famous new "lecturette" "Sunshine and Shadow."

James Hadley, of Chicago, is well known here, having lectured twice before. He has six lectures to select from and is a platform entertainer of the highest order.

Dr. A. A. Willits is another orator who has been here frequently and is regarded by many critical judges as the best lecturer on the platform. He is called the "Apostle of Sunshine."

Gen. Jas. B. Gordon will also present his "First Days of the Confederacy," his new lecture. He was here a season or two ago with

PLANTS PUT OUT,

Transplanting Process Followed by Cloudy Weather and Showers.

An excellent season for setting tobacco prevailed the first of the week and about all of the land that had been prepared throughout the dark tobacco district was planted. Some farmers finished setting their crop, while many put out about half of the land set apart for the weed. The plants were mostly of good size and as the transplanting process was followed by cloudy weather with occasional showers nearly all the plants will live. Now that the larger plants have been drawn from the beds the remaining plants will grow more rapidly, and if the farmers are favored with another rain in a week or so a full crop will be put out in this section.

Corn, oats, clover and other crops were greatly benefited by the rain and the condition of wheat was also improved.

The "Fifth Season" Passes With Usual "Cold Snap."

What is known as "Blackberry Winter" was due this week and the temperature went down to 48 degrees Tuesday morning. Many brought their overcoats into service and they proved quite comfortable. Blackberries are now in full bloom and from all indications we are likely to have a very heavy crop, as they were never known to be killed; the fullness of the crop depending entirely on the bulk of bloom.

OTTER KITTEN

Purchased For Attraction in Louisville Cafe Window.

A few weeks ago some boys, while fishing near Dawson, discovered a young Otter floundering in the water and captured it. They took the varmint to Dawson and sold it to Mr. C. M. Dulin, of that place, formerly of Crofton. The Otter grew rapidly and became as tame as a Kitten. A few days ago Mr. Dulin sold his pet to a Louisville party for $30. It will be used as an attraction in a cafe window.

Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever." Sold by all druggists.

"After using several well recommended medicines without success, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and am pleased to say that relief came as soon as I began its use and a complete cure speedily followed. This remedy has also been used in my family for frost bitten feet with the best results. I cheerfully recommend its use to all who may need a first-class liniment." Sold by all druggists.

Miss Ida Irwin, of Ohio City, O., arrived here this week on a visit to her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Irwin.

Biliousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. There is a loathing of food, pains in the bowels, dizziness, coated tongue and vomiting, first of the undigested or partly digested food and then of bile. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets allay the disturbances of the stomach and create a healthy appetite. They also tone up the liver to a healthy action and regulate the bowels. Try them and you are certain to be pleased with the result. For sale by all druggists.

Magistrate Jno. H. Hause, who has been a justice of the peace in Jeffersonville for nine years has during that time married 7000 eloping couples.

People are still talking about the excellence of the May issue of Everybody's Magazine. The June number is even better. It contains a variety of articles of first-rate interest and has nothing within its covers that is not able and cleverly written. There are ideas in the magazine, but the style is not sacrificed to material. Nor are the illustrations inferior to those of the most expensive monthlies. In a brief period Everybody's has come to the front of the "cent-centers" and it is proud to maintain that position by the publication of vivid, and original matter on a series of topics as wide as the world.
